NEVER TO BE FORGOTTEN

By DR. BERTHOLD A. BAER.

"My husband, like so many others, I believe, dreaded to attend a funeral or enter an establishment devoted to the care of the deceased. Yet, upon his sickbed he said: 'Don't forget, dearie, Columbus 8200.'"

I was present when the widow related the above to Frank E. Campbell, founder-proprietor of The Funeral Church, Broadway at 66th Street.

"What made such a deep impression upon the deceased," asked Mr. Campbell, "that he should remember our telephone number?"

"Fred, as you know, leaves a large factory where there are employed over three hundred men and women.

"One day the mother of one of our girls had died, penniless, friendless.

"Go to Campbell's Funeral Church," someone advised.

"She went there, passed the door ten, eleven, twelve times, afraid to enter for fear you might ask more than she could afford to pay. At last she took courage, approached the desk, and was soon in your office. You consoled her; you gave her mother a funeral, the like only a well-to-do could afford.

"When Fred, who was present at the services in The Funeral Church, asked you who paid for all the comfort to the living and the attention to the dead, you answered: 'I pay for this; this is Campbell Service. Do you remember what he said then and there?'"

"He asked for our telephone number," answered Mr. Campbell.

"Quite right: Columbus 8200, a number which so impressed itself upon his memory, never to be forgotten. Often during his illness he said to me: a man who thus cares for the deserving poor is the man who shall take care of me when my time comes. If ever anything happens to me call Columbus 8200. Now, do you understand? And here in my handbag," she added smilingly, "is a little card whereupon is written: My name is Mrs. C. F., of 560 West Street. Should I be found sick or dead, call Columbus 8200."
